Definitions

Capitalized terms not otherwise defined in this ALA document are defined in the governing agreement.

Term	Definition
Appliance or Appl	Means an instance of software loaded and pre-configured on a server
Application	Means any software program that performs specific functional tasks other than the operation of the software system upon which the software program runs
Application Server	Means software that executes business or application logic that is made available to a web server for processing requests. Application Servers are typically J2EE application servers or .Net application servers
Application User	Means a single User authorized to use the functionality of the licensed software as integrated with a single unique Application
Client	Means any applications or systems which provide functionality separate from that of the software and/or Appliance while providing for the facility to connect to and interact with the software and/or Appliance.
Client Class	Means any ESKM Applications or systems as defined by its value basis for the customer environment by tier level (A – I)
CPU	Means a system in a single integrated circuit package with one or more discrete processing Cores
Enterprise	Means the right to use software worldwide
E-LTU and E-Media	Means products which are electronically delivered only, and as such any reference to FOB Destination or delivery methods that are stated on your purchase order other than electronic shall be null and void with respect to these E-LTU or E-Media products.
Implementation	Means an installation of the software on a single Server or installed on a cluster of Servers which work together as a single installation of the software
Instance	Means each implementation of the application installed on a Server
LTU	Means License to Use
NFR	Means "Not For Resale" units. Such units are to be used for internal development, test, training and demonstration purposes only. Such items may neither be sold to customers, nor be deployed in production for inhouse use, nor for delivering services to customers.
Non-Stop System	Means an HPE high-end server
Platform	Means software that provides a base level of functionality to the User, upon which additional functionality may be added
SaaS	Means Software as a Service which is a service which allows access to the software, support and related professional services
Server or Svr	Means any designated computer system in which an Instance or Instances of the software is installed
SDK	Means Software Development Kit which is a set of software development tools that allows the creation of applications for a certain software package, software framework, or similar development platform
Site	Means a license allowing the software to be used at an address (e.g., room number, department number, building number, street address, campus etc.) or a group of addresses specified in the applicable Supporting Material. Site cannot include multiple addresses or addresses in multiple countries or states. Site licenses cannot be moved to an alternate Site after the original purchase without written approval by Utimaco. If no Site address is explicitly specified in the Supporting Material, then the Site address will be the Ship To address specified on the quotation

Term License to Use or Term LTU	Means a software license to use (LTU) which indicates in its license description that the license is valid for a specific period of time such as One Month (1M), One Year (1Y), Three Year (3Y), etc. Term LTU's are not perpetual licenses
Term Support	Means a fixed period support offering that is only valid during the time period of the associated Term LTU
Use	Means to install, store, load, execute and display one copy of the software
User	Means a user whose Use is restricted to the type of software that is being licensed
Virtual Appliance	Means Virtual Machine image designed to run on a virtualization platform (e.g., VirtualBox, Xen, VMware Workstation, Parallels Workstation)
Virtual Machine or VM(s)	Means a computer that does not physically exist but is simulated by another computer
